Master of Ceremonies For 'Headliner' Named

Comedian Joe Flynn will serve as master of ceremonies for the Greater Los Angeles Press Club's seventh annual "Headliner of the Year" awards banquet Friday, April 26.

The banquet, honoring Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh as California's top newsmaker for 1967, will be held in the Biltmore Bowl of the Biltmore Hotel in Los Angeles.

Flynn, a veteran television and motion picture performer, was introduced to network television as a regular on the George Gobel show. He subsequently became a regular on the Joey Bishop show, starred as Captain Wallace Binghampton in "McHale's Navy" and guested on television specials with such stars as Jack Benny, Bob Newhart, Danny Thomas and Tennessee Ernie Ford.

Flynn's motion picture credits include two films based on "McHale's Navy," "The Seven Little Foys," "The Ten Commandments," and "Divorce American Style." He is presently working on "The Lovebug" at Disney Studios.

The Greater Los Angeles Press Club, which coordinates the annual Headliner banquet, is a professional organization comprising 1200 members representing all areas of communications.
